SOAKED TEN

Fined on Charge of Cruelty to Animals

On the information of Constable E. B. Davies, of the Vulcan detachment of the A.P.P., and tried before J. A. Lindsay, J.P., and E. J. Charters, J.P., Edward Weiss and John Weiss, of near Champion, were fined $10 and costs on a charge of cruelty to animals. They pleaded guilty. The offences consisted chiefly of working horses with sore shoulders and otherwise unfit for labor. The horses are said to have been in a very bad condition. There is no sympathy coming to anyone guilty of an offence like this and be it said to the credit of the people of the community that there are few offences of the kind.

FINED FIVE

Breaking of Quarantine will Not be Tolerated

On Wednesday night at the A.P.P. detachment, Vulcan, before J. A. Lindsay, J.P., Mrs. E. B. Rench of near Champion, was charged in that being an inmate of a house under quarantine for scarlet fever, she did unlawfully and wilfully leave same without written permission to do so from the local board of health, contrary to Regulation 21, Subsection 2 of the Public Health of Alberta, being chapter 58 of the revised statutes of Alberta, 1922. The information was laid by Constable E. B. Davies of Vulcan, and Dr. G. M. Carson was the chief witness for the prosecution. The accused pleaded "not guilty" but after a lengthy hearing was fined $5 and costs.

CALL POLICE

Vulcan Farmer Seizes Help From The Force

Under a big double head, the following appeared in the Calgary Albertan on Wednesday morning and it will be interesting to The Advocate readers here and elsewhere. Big loads, big teams and big crops are certainly securing big publicity for Vulcan. City police officers in the past have been called upon to perform many strange duties, but the request received by Chief of Police Ritchie on Tuesday relegated the others to the background. The Chief had only been in the office a few minutes on Tuesday morning when the telephone rang.

"Chief constable's office," Mr. Ritchie said as he took off the receiver.

"That's fine," said the voice on the wire. "This is Vulcan speaking—I want a couple of policemen right away."

"I'm afraid you've got the wrong force," said the chief. "I'll switch you over to the provincial police—we don't handle anything outside of the city."

"No, it's the city police I want," the voice persisted, "and I want two husky cops right away to stook one of the best fields of grain in the country. Can I have them?"

"You bet you can," replied the chief. "I'll have them down for you on Wednesday morning's train—it's a little out of the ordinary police work, but there's nothing my men can't tackle."

The chief is arranging for two of his men to take their vacation and they will be available for harvest work today. Although only two men were wanted, a dozen bluecoats made application for the temporary farm job last night.

Rink Contract Let

The chief business of two recent sessions of Vulcan Council has been the consideration of tenders for the building of the new skating rink. On Wednesday night the contract was awarded to Bennett & White, of Calgary. Operations have already commenced, and some material will be on the ground the coming week.

SHOOTING SEASON

Saturday Next a Declaration of War
Will be Made Against Ducks

Next Saturday the 15th inst., will note the opening of the fall shooting season when ducks and geese can be taken, and the numerous nimrods of this town and the surrounding district will be astir early in quest of the game. It is reported that ducks are numerous this year owing to the heavy and continuous rains which were had the past summer and which put standing water in most of the small and large sloughs throughout the district, where numbers of these gamey birds can at present be seen leisurely enjoying a life of quiet and peacefulness with little apprehension of the danger awaiting them. One or two reports of a gun, however, puts them on the alert and they are forever after looking for a place of safety.

The big lake to the east of High River will be the big scene as usual on the opening day and there are a large number of the birds there. The shores of this will be early lined with shooters which will keep the birds on the move throughout the day and the surrounding sloughs will also be well patronized by shooters so that with favorable weather there should be some good sport on the opening morning.

As has been customary on this particular morning special early breakfast to invited shooting parties will be held in a large number of the homes of the local nimrods before proceeding to their selected spots for the day's shooting. These have become very popular here and are looked forward to as a very satisfying preliminary to the day's events. The open season on ducks and geese is this year from September 15th to December 14th inclusive but the open season on birds, grouse, prairie chicken, partridge, etc., does not come into effect until October 15th, with the exception that Hungarian partridges may be taken from the 1st until the 31st of October, inclusive. See that your equipment is in readiness and tell the truth regarding your bag after this day's sport. Let us have your story.

WILLIAM HAY

Passing of Pioneer Resident of Vulcan
District

William Hay, aged 74 years, pioneer resident and esteemed citizen of Vulcan district, died suddenly at his home on Saturday night. Deceased came from Scotland in the year 1904, and has since been a continuous resident of the district, only broken by a trip home to the old country some twelve years ago. Years of residence here have made him widely known and highly esteemed, and "Ceseyhole," the family home, has long been known for its splendid hospitality.

Besides the many friends who regret his demise, of the family left to mourn the loss there are the widow, five sons and two daughters. Three sons Robert, James and Charles, farm land adjacent to the parental home; William is in the engraving trade at Calgary, and David is a member of the R.C.M.P. at Lethbridge. The daughters are Mrs. Jack Thompson, of Pincher Creek, and Mrs. Davidson, of Scotland.

Interment took place at Highland cemetery, and services were conducted by Rev. J. N. Brunton. An appropriate solo by Mrs. Smith was a part of an impressive ceremony. The pall bearers were the five sons of the deceased and Mr. W. A. Howes. The funeral was attended by a large number from town and country.

Beautiful floral tributes were contributed by members of the family; Meg and Jack Thompson and family, Willie and Jessie; grandchildren, Willie, Marian and Nannie; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Howes, Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Bateman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Murdoch, and Redlandview Women's Institute.

A GOOD 'UN

Londoner Tells of the Crops at Vulcan.

The immense crops in Vulcan district gets publicity for this town and vicinity, in the following from The Albertan of Saturday, relating an incident at the labor bureau in that city, and is the more interesting, from the fact that fifty or more of the lads from old England are working in the immediate vicinity of the town, and be it said to their credit that many are sticking it and making good, and not a few have already resolved to stay with Canada. Tales of wheat stooks so heavy that an ordinary man can lift one at a time, are now drifting into the city. Jonathan O. Belmont, of London, England, who stooked for 10 days on a farm in the Vulcan district, limped into the bureau on Friday and wanted to know if he could get a job where "the b'omming grain wasn't so bleedin' 'eavy."

He displayed a pair of badly blistered hands and said that he had lost 14 pounds in the 10 days he had worked. "The fast 'dye I was on the job, I thought I'd die—the boss showed me 'ow to tuck 'em under me arms and flop 'em up, eight in a row. I flopped the grain for a while and then I flopped down on the ground and stayed there. I stuck it ten days until the stooking was finished. Now I applies for a job where the grain isn't 'eavy. When the war was on we wondered why the Canadians were so strong looking—now I know where they gets their strength—'eaving sheafs of grain. When I got up in the morning I saw yellow grain and when I went to bed at night, everything was yellow. I'm glad I came over, but I'll feel better when I'm sailin' for 'ome."

SWEET CLOVER

Clover on Cook Farm at Vulcan Passed
High

The five acre lot of "Arctic Sweet Clover," grown in rows on the Dominion Government Illustration Field, passed highly the standing growth inspection made last month. The seed registration official awarded the field 18 out of a possible 20 points. A second inspection is required for certification. This inspection comes after threshing and should the report be favorable, the Arctic sweet clover in Mr. Cook's possession will be eligible for registration as pure seed.

This report is creditable to the illustration field and to Mr. Cook, and Vulcan will appreciate the benefit which comes from both. This field of clover has been the object of interest for some time to passers-by, and many have gone out to see it. The aroma from this beautiful plot is sometimes wafted into town, and is a delight to our people.

Mrs. H. Litchfield of Dinton has been very successful in the cultivation of rare flowering plants and her garden has attracted many people who stopped to admire. In 1918 she first planted tiger lilies and this summer the plants attained the height of nearly four feet, all the stalks bearing a most beautiful bloom.

FIRST LOAD

First Delivery of Wheat at Vulcan on Tuesday

Andrew McKeague has the distinction of making the first delivery of 1923 wheat at Vulcan and it was received at the U.G.G. elevator just after noon on Tuesday. It graded No. 1 and was but the first load of a big yield.

Not more than an hour or two later the second load arrived. It was delivered by James Jamieson, and it was taken in by Frank Kiever at the Alberta Pacific elevator. Mr. Jamieson by Wednesday noon had delivered a car load, which was at once loaded and billed out, and is the first car to be consigned from this point. This wheat also graded No. 1.

THE RESULT

Reads of Big Team and Will Come to Canada

Frank Henzel, in a letter addressed to "Alberta Pacific Grain Co. Elevator at Vulcan, Canada," writes: "I was reading in my paper about you unloading eight loads of wheat, drawing it with fifteen teams of horses. I'm writing you as I would like to come to Canada. I have 320 acres of land here, but I would like to make the move. Wheat is no good here, from five to nine bushels to the acre. If there is a printing office in your town, please have them send me a copy of their paper."

This letter, from which the foregoing is quoted, was received by Mr. Frank Kiever. It is from Colby, in Kansas, and in it there was the many questions usually submitted by those contemplating coming to our country. And publicity prompted it all. The request for a copy of the local paper is of interest to The Advocate, and it affords the opportunity to suggest the importance of everybody advertising, so that all at home and abroad can get the proper estimate on Vulcan. When this fellow gets the paper he will know that we have here two drug stores, several groceries and dry goods houses, clothing stores and such, but he could reasonably be in doubt as to some lines of business. The local paper should be a complete business directory of the town.

LOCAL ITEMS

Mrs. H. Daines and Miss Gladys
Daines are visiting in Calgary.

Dr. Wark attended the sessions of the medical conference last week at Calgary.

Miss Rinehart, matron of the local hospital, has returned from the hospital at Calgary to Vulcan.

Mr. Neville Blunt of St. Aldhelm's Church, leaves this week to continue his college course at Winnipeg.

Mr. J. Morrison, from Vancouver, has been transferred to the staff of the Bank of Hamilton at Vulcan.

Mr. R. L. Elves was up to Three Hills for a few days, looking after the harvesting of his crops in that district.

A persistent rumor is going the rounds that Duncan Marshall will be leader of the opposition in the Alberta legislature. He may run for Grouard or Clearwater.

While Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson were at Vulcan attending the funeral of the latter's father, they received word of the death of their little daughter at their home in Pincher Creek.

We have noted the boys and girls going by with music exercise books. Music is now one of the course of studies in several grades of the public school, and singing will be under the direction of Miss Norton.

The new telephone directory is to hand. Vulcan is no small place when it comes to phones, for there are about 500 subscribers receiving service through this office, and we want to say a good word for the busy staff of operators. There is no better.

The resignations of Messrs. Barber and Geddes from the Bank of Hamilton staff, mentioned last week in the article on the bank amalgamation, was not intended to convey the idea that they refused to go to the service of the Bank of Commerce. The fact is that the resignations were determined before they knew anything of amalgamation.

The Vulcan Women's Institute held their regular meeting in the basement of the English church on September 7th. As they were entertaining visiting Institutes, there was a large number of ladies present. The Reid Hill W.I. put on the program, with the exception of one number which was rendered by Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Smith of Vulcan W.I. The program was excellent and was very much enjoyed by those present. After the meeting a very dainty lunch was served, and it was a credit to the ladies on the lunch committee and particularly to Mrs. King, the convenor.

LOCAL ITEMS

If you have any news item drop us a line or phone us the information.

Mrs. J. C. McMillan of Calgary is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. McClement.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hanna have moved this week into their new home, recently purchased from Mr. George Ecker.

Mrs. (Rev.) Brunton is in Calgary attending sessions of the Provincial Board of the Women's Missionary Society.

Mr. K.W. Brown, of Vancouver, formerly of the Bank of Commerce staff in Vulcan, is spending a day or two in town.

The interior of the Union church has been painted and decorated, and now has an attractive appearance. Messrs. Bert Innes and Earl Clark were the artists.

Mr. Hec Marcellus captured an eagle the other day. He is a proud and noble bird, and of exceptional size. From tip to tip of wings it measures something like seven feet.

Mr. W. F. Reynolds of Nevada, and Mr. Fred Glass, of Illinois are up to Vulcan on their annual trip. They are naturally delighted with the splendid crops, for they own land in the district.

One hundred and twenty new folding chairs have been added this week to the equipment of the Vulcan opera house. This will add to the comfort and pleasure of the patrons of this house.

Inspector Butterfield of the Provincial health department, was in Vulcan last week and gave our town the once over. His official report has not yet been received, but the place looked good to him.

Mr. Louren Ladd, who lives down in the States and has a farm at Vulcan, is up on a trip and out among the sheaves. He called and paid for The Advocate for another year, and there is happiness all around.

The Vulcan Women's Institute was given credit last week for donating $15 to the playground park. It was all a typographical mistake. It should have been one hundred and fifteen dollars. The W. I. do not do things in a small way.

The Good Deeds Women's Institute have contributed five dollars as special prizes in connection with the school fair. This is keeping up with the name they bear, for surely the school fair is one of the best institutions the community possesses.

"The work at the swimming pool is nearly completed and the pool will be ready for use in a few days." These few lines are from the Nanton News, and indicate that Nanton now possesses a real asset that is the envy of Vulcan, but, some day we are going to have one of our own.

Rev. W. C. Marsh conducted a service at Vulcan on Friday last. Mr. N. Blunt, who was in charge of St. John's church last summer, has been supplying Vulcan this year, and will leave shortly for St. John's college, Winnipeg, where he will spend the winter term.—Clareholm Review.

What about hockey? We are reading about hockey in almost every paper we pick up. Now that it is a certainty that we are to have a new rink, and a good one at that, hockey should be a topic of interest in Vulcan. The mistake is often made of waiting too long before getting to business. Let everybody get interested.

Three car loads of fruit—mostly apples—have already been received, and distributed in Vulcan. Last year there were ten or twelve cars received here, and there will be more this year. There are 600 boxes to a car, so you can figure it out that there is considerable fruit consumed here, and this does not include the small shipments received every day.

Wheat yields, all big, but varying considerably, have been reported at Vulcan. The best up to Wednesday night was that of Mr. Everett McPherson, who got 307 1/2 bushels from exactly six acres, an average of about 51 1/2 bushels per acre. It is wheat of the Marquis variety of exceptional quality and clean, and will be retained for seed. This is really a Vulcan crop, for the field almost adjoins the town. The Advocate desires to record the big yields of the district, and grain growers will be conferring a favor by making reports to this office.

The fire alarm rang just before two o'clock on Sunday morning. This was the first summons for the new fire truck since it was put into commission just less than a year ago. It was fine to hear and see it go rushing by right after the sound of the bell. Getting more like New York every day. Luckily there was no fire to fight, for it was a wild and windy night, the worst for many moons. There was fire and sparks aplenty issuing from the Liberty Cafe chimney, and alarmed neighbors sent in the call. It can only be conjectured what a fire that night might have been.

THE VULCAN ADVOCATE

VULCAN, ALBERTA

TRIBUTE TO MR. COOTE

Mr. Coote, the federal member for Macleod riding, took an important stand in the discussion last session on the Bank Act and he hammered away in his endeavor to bring about what he termed very necessary changes in the Bank Act. Mr. Coote was engaged in the banking business before he took up farming and he knew whereof he spoke when he insisted on the introduction of certain amendments to this Act. The collapse of the Home Bank following the strenuous efforts of Mr. Coote and Mr. Good to prevent such contingencies is a vindication of their stand and will justify them in further criticizing the Bank Act, because the bankers so strongly took the position last session that the Canadian Banking system was well nigh perfect. In this connection, tribute must be paid to Mr. Coote for the splendid fight he put up in his endeavors to amend the Act. Had these amendments been adopted years ago we would not have to record the collapse of the Home Bank and the heavy loss caused to depositors who labored under the delusion that Canadian banks were secure as the dominion. Mr. Coote, keep up the good work.

RESPECT HIS WISHES

Inasmuch as the Prince of Wales has asked that his visit to Canada be without ceremony and ostentation, his wishes will be observed by the people of High River and district. They are very enthusiastic about the coming visit and would thoroughly enjoy the privilege of greeting the smiling Prince again but we know they will suppress their feelings with merely saying "Hello" when he arrives this week. That Lord Renfrew will have an enjoyable time while here is the desire of all, and to that end quiet games of poker or bridge have been suggested by some of the neighbors while others have offered the use of their bird dogs during his stay here for partridge and duck shooting. There will be many press representatives to give daily reports of the movements of the Prince while at his ranch, for readers all over the continent are keenly interested in the visit and it is only through the press they will be enabled to read of what transpires. The camera fiends will also be here and they will be difficult to suppress for their duty is to get pictures at all costs. There is no program arranged for the Prince but during his stay he will be given an opportunity of viewing and experiencing the western ways from all angles and different points; and we trust his visit will be fully appreciated.

ACCURACY—EDITOR'S AIM

Accuracy in all reports is the aim of every newspaper man. Once in a while an error slips past and then what a hornet's nest is raised. The editor of a contemporary recently committed the supposed offence. He says a good subscriber told him about it. Then he says the same day there was a letter in our post office box that didn't belong to us. We called for 98 over the telephone and got 198. We asked for a pool of No. 50 thread and when we got home we found it was No. 60. The train was reported thirty minutes late. We arrived at the depot twenty minutes after train time and the train was gone. We got our milk bill and there was a mistake of ten cents in our favor. We felt a bit and the doctor said we were eating too much meat. We had not tasted meat for two months. The garage man said the jitney was missing because it needed a new timer. We cleaned a spark plug and it's run fine ever since. Yes, we made a mistake in last week's issue of the paper.

BUYING ROYAL STOCK

That stockmen throughout Alberta appreciate the value of the E.P. ranch is evidenced by the present demand for some of the Prince's surplus purebred stock, notwithstanding the high prices being asked. At the Lacombe purebred show a shorthorn bull was sold for $1500 and last week the Clydesdale filly Netherhall Rosebud, imported this spring, was sold for $1500. Several head of Shropshire sheep were also sold at big prices. The Prince let it be understood, is owner of some of the finest breeding farms in England, and the High River ranch furnishes him a place to dispose of his surplus purebred stock in England, besides providing a medium for bringing within the range of the Canadian stockmen a new and high class type of animal. Professor Carlyle, the manager of the ranch, is daily in receipt of numerous enquiries from men all over the country who are anxious to buy some of the "E.P." breeding stock, all of which bears out the impression that this Royal ranch will succeed as a commercial enterprise besides improving the standard of the stock of this province.

BIG YIELDS EXPECTED

The Canadian Pacific crop reports continue to be very encouraging throughout the province while in this district the yield will exceed the fondest hopes of the most optimistic and the quality will be largely No. 1 hard. Up till Monday no frost had been reported and where the fall did not strike there will be big returns. Parkland and Claresholm expect a 40-bushel yield; Cayley and High River 35 bushels; Okotoks, Nanton, Barons, Carmangay, Champion, Ensign, Blackie, will also average 35 bushels, while around Brant the yield will be about 40 bushels. Cutting is well advanced, many having completed and are awaiting drying and maturing of grain in the stock.

RAW MATERIALS

There is no question about it. Exporting raw materials never made a nation wealthy, and Canada should stop exporting pulpwood as soon as possible. Raw materials ought to be carried to high state of manufacture at home before being exported. Canada controls 80 per cent of the world's output of asbestos and exports 200,000 tons a year. This brings in about $12,000,000 a year, but if it were manufactured it would lead to a big investment of capital, greater employment and bring in about $200,000,000 a year. We have been exporting 1,000,000 cords of pulpwood a year for the past ten years, this year's exports being about 2,000,000 cords. The average price paid was $10 a cord. Had this been exported as manufactured paper it would have brought in an enormously greater amount and given employment to many men.

An interesting article by Elizabeth Bailey Price appeared in the Lethbridge Herald on Saturday last entitled "The Front Train" in which an account of the first train entering Calgary is given. A photograph shows the first train crossing the Saskatchewan river at Medicine Hat and another one shows Calgary in 1885 after the railroad reached there.

A trial shipment of several thousand boxes of Alberta and Saskatchewan butter will be exported to the United Kingdom shortly by way of British Columbia and the Panama canal. If the trial shipment is satisfactory, it is said, the transportation of dairy produce from the prairies through British Columbia will develop into large proportions.

Champion Child Dancer

Rita Liffey aged nine of Dundee, who has won four silver cups and twenty-one medals for dancing, recently immigrated to Canada with her parents. Her repertoire includes sixteen different dances which she has successfully acquired in less than three years. During her trans-Atlantic voyage she entertained other passengers on the Canadian Pacific Steamer Montclare with exhibitions.

The Real Reason for A Pretty Skin

Why is it that one girl has a fresh smooth complexion and another a skin which is lifeless, dull and sallow? Is it a gift of nature or some guarded beauty secret?

It is a secret, but an open one in which every woman may share. It consists in knowledge of the care which keeps the skin free from clogging, poisonous accumulations. In the removal every day of all dirt, oil secretions, excess cold cream, powder, and rouge.

To do this, use mild soap, massage it thoroughly into your skin and remove with many rinsings. The mildest soap you can choose for this purpose is Palmolive. It contains Palm and Olive oils. These rare oils are the mildest cleansers nature ever produced. They are the oils used by Cleopatra thousands of years ago.

Their combination in Palmolive produces a profuse, creamy lather which penetrates every tiny pore, removes every trace of dirt, oil, rouge and powder and leaves the skin smooth and fresh as a rose.

You can buy Palmolive Soap at all first-class dealers.

Palm and olive oils—nothing else—give nature's green color to Palmolive Soap.

An Explanation of Why John McFarland Resigned From the Wheat Board

John McFarland of the Alberta Grain Co., whose name has been prominently mentioned in connection with the grain business of the west, and who would have made a most satisfactory official of the Wheat Pool had the following letter sent out to managers of grain elevators, which speaks for itself:

Sir,—Some of our elevator agents report to me that there are some farmers in their district who are feeling some resentment against me because I resigned from the Wheat Pool Committee. I can only conclude they do not know the facts or otherwise they would agree that the course I took was the only proper course I could take, having regard to the interest of my many farming friends and my future relations with them.

Firstly: Please get this fact clearly in your mind, namely that there was a widespread report current throughout the province, that John McFarland was going to manage the Pool, and many farmers to my personal knowledge, believed that to be an established fact and were either rightly or wrongly of the opinion that I could manage it successfully, and had confidence in me in that capacity.

Secondly: Please get this fact in your mind, that the Sub-Committee, nor any other committee, had never at any time approached me to ask if I would manage the pool and even to this day I have never been approached.

Thirdly: In view of these facts do you or does any fair-minded farmer in this Province consider it would have been fair to my farming friends or myself, if I had permitted the Drive Committee to ask any farmer to sign the contract under the false impression that I was manager, when they knew I had never been asked to manage, nor was I approached in any manner.

In order to dispel the false rumors my only course left open was to resign and state the facts. How could I have met my friends from the farms of the province at some future date if I had permitted them to sign up under false information. They would have held me accountable if they at some future date became sorry for having signed. As it now stands I can meet any man face to face today or at any future date and discuss my action, and if he is fair, can convince him I did the right thing. I regretted doing it but the committee placed me in such a position that I had to do so. I would be only too glad to discuss this with any farmers who care to call at my office.

I wish to state that the Alberta Pacific Grain Co.'s elevators will receive grain from Pool members and non pool members without discrimination, and will give equal service on all grain regardless of whether it is for the pool or not for the pool.

I am anxious to clear up any misunderstandings in your district, and if you would like a supply of these letters to distribute among producers in your district please advise and we will mail you same.

After an illness of two months, the death occurred in the Vancouver General hospital this morning of Mrs. Patrick Burns, wife of the well known Calgary cattle man. Mrs. Burns was Eileen Ellis, daughter of Mr. Thomas Ellis of Penticton, and was married to Mr. Burns in 1901. She is survived by her husband and one son. Mr. Burns who has been in Winnipeg, left for the coast this morning in response to word that his wife's illness had taken a serious turn. Mrs. Burns was 51 years of age.

PRAISES ROYALTY

Chief Business of King George and Prince of Wales is Keeping British Empire Together.

(Frederick L. Collins)

The most industrious, most businesslike and tactful family in the world belongs to the reigning house of the British Empire, concedes Frederick L. Collins in an article of the Woman's Home Companion, principally devoted to King George and the Prince of Wales. And the one big business of this family is keeping intact the units of a great empire, scattered as it is over the face of the habitable globe, bound by an invisible chain whose links have been welded by love and loyalty to the Crown represented by these remarkable people.

To our King this writer for an American publication pays this splendid tribute:—

The king himself is a man of remarkable qualities, who has been almost too much blessed in his family. He has been overshadowed; in his youth by his father and in his later years by his son. But in sheer brain capacity stripped of dash and charm it is doubtful if he is surpassed by either of them, or, for that matter by any of his ministers. The late Lord Northcliffe said to me: "King George can talk on any subject for three minutes better than any other man in the world. If he ever had four minutes at his disposal no one knows what he might do."

No captain of industry in the Empire is a busier man than is the Prince of Wales. For the Prince of Wales is one of the hardest-working men in the world, whether in London or Cornwall or Vancouver of the Khyber Pass. This ceaseless activity of the Prince of Wales, this willing sacrifice of his entire life to the interests of his country—this is the keynote of the attitude of British royalty. It is likewise the secret of their popularity and security and success.

Moreover, England feels that it needs its Royalty to supply the sentimental glue which keeps the good old Empire from falling apart. England herself is nothing but a few large cities and some suburbs. If she did not have the Crown, or something equally encircling to bind to her the great self-sufficient Dominions of Canada and Australia and South Africa, she would be as helpless as Austria; there would be fifty thousand shillings to the dollar instead of about five and a half; there would be bread lines instead of tea queues in the streets of London.

British royalty is, therefore, more strongly entrenched than any other royalty in the world—because it has a job to do, and is willing and able to do it. There are other reasons: The throne is a British institution—and to the native of Great Britain, Britishness is next to Godliness; and if you wish the simple truth about our English cousin, he likes his democracy with just a little bit of gold lace on it! Speaking of the Prince of Wales some time ago, Sir Gilbert Parker, Canadian novelist said: "There never was a more naturally tactful man, or one who, with a supreme gift of feeling differences of view and temperament, adapted himself to the needs of the moment. And there never was a more gallant, modest and all-around effective Prince of Wales. His dignity sits lightly but happily upon him; his great intelligence is a by-word with those who know him, and his good judgement is an asset without price to the crown. He never mistakes his audience in the country that he visits."

Commenting on this estimate of the Prince, Mr. Collins goes on to say:—Sir Gilbert, being a British subject, may be suspected of overenthusiasm, but it is impossible to impeach such evidence of the young man's qualities as we find in a little incident during the Prince's American tour. He was to spend the night in a tiny town in British Columbia. The women of the village, knowing that the Prince preferred a dance to a dinner, prepared to clear the town hall for the festivity; but when the volunteer committee of women turned out in the afternoon to arrange the decorations they discovered that the edifice would not hold the committee, to say nothing to the dancers. The women thereupon adjourned to the local garage, turned loose the small cars into the neighboring field and swept, scrubbed, and polished the place until it smelled and looked like a well-kept kitchen. The Prince, hurrying to the royal train after a gay evening of fox-trotting with the local belles, heard of the extraordinary devotion of their mothers, and insisted on remaining the following day to thank them for having gone down on their knees to give him pleasure.

The average Englishman has no time for unessentials. He works three days for himself and three days for the tax collector; but on the seventh day, and on holidays of all sorts, he likes just a dash of well-placed gold lace. He finds in young Edward of Wales all that he needs, a tonic for his war worn soul. The Prince has performed many services for the British Empire. Perhaps it is not too much to say that he has, by his personality and his promise, done more to save it during these unsettled years than any other living man.

It is rumored that the 'Molson's Bank and Royal Bank will merge in the near future.

WHEAT ESTIMATE

Nearly Half Billion of Wheat for Western Canada is Estimate of Free Press

A yield of 452,503,169 bushels of wheat from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta this year is predicted, in the 20th annual crop report of the Manitoba Free Press, published Saturday morning. Alberta leads the prairie provinces for production of wheat per acre, according to the estimate with an average yield of 25 bushels from 5,956,061 acres, the acreage issued by the dominion government statistical bureau on August 11. The total Alberta wheat yield is estimated at 148,901,525 bushels. An average of 21 bushels per acre from 12,790,984 acres is predicted in Saskatchewan, with a total yield of 268,610,664 bushels. In Manitoba where much damage has been caused by rust and sawfly, an average of 12 bushels is predicted from 2,915,915 acres. The total yield is estimated at 34,990,980 bushels. The yield of coarse grains for the three prairie provinces are estimated as follows: oats, 386,825,295 bushels; barley, 61,540,140 bushels; rye, 24,376,560 bushels; flax 7,193,026 bushels.

The growing season of 1923 has been a peculiarly trying one in many respects, the newspaper says, and while the outturn of grain will be very much the largest in the history of Western Canada, it will not be as satisfactory a crop to handle as many a one that has preceded it; nevertheless, the great volume of grain which in the coming months will pour through the "neck of the bottle" seaward to the ships, must even at prevailing prices, represent an enormous movement of money also.

"The loss from rust in Manitoba, more especially, has been heavy, very heavy. There has been loss in all the provinces from undue heat just as the heads of wheat appeared from the shot blade. There has been some loss in all the provinces from sawfly and from two somewhat new enemies, namely glume blotch and root rot," the newspaper states in its review.

"The wheat crop of 1923 is not a No. 1 northern crop in any of the provinces," the report says, "though there will be some No. 1 northern from all of them. In this grade it is quite probable that Alberta will lead, though in view of the uneven ripening due to continued rains, the percentage of No. 1 northern will not be in proportion to the actual weight per bushel of the grain from that province, which will be extremely heavy, more especially from the north."

The yield of grain for Alberta is estimated as follows:

	Average	Yield	Bushels
Wheat	5,956,061	25	148,901,525
Oats	1,846,247	55	101,543,585
Barley	383,505	35	113,422,780
Rye	396,758	20	7,935,160
Flax	15,000	14	210,000

WHICH WILL IT BE?

Reciprocity of Trade or Reciprocity of Tariff—Pointed Article From The Vancouver Sun

If the government of Canada cannot elevate the living conditions of its citizens to a level with living conditions in the United States through reciprocity of trade, it must bring about that elevation through reciprocity of tariff. We must either be put in the position of doing business freely with the United States or we must erect a wall against American products such as the wall Americans have erected against ours—a wall that nothing can climb over. It is nonsense to suppose that this continent is other than a trading unit. As such North America should be open to the free passage of goods from one political section to another. He fact that the north half of the continent is politically distinct from the south half has nothing to do with the economics of the situation. But the Fordney tariff does such violence to the principle and to the economic structure of the continent that Canadian living costs are fully 25 per cent. higher than American living costs. A certain Canadian manufactured car (?) purchased in Vancouver costs $2090. The same car just across the line in Bellingham, can be bought for $1425. Gasoline sells in Vancouver for 33 cents an imperial gallon. Across the line in Bellingham, it sells at 17 cents, or by the imperial gallon 21 cents. Food, clothing and everything else are in proportion. The big pressing question today is how long can the Canadian consumer stand it? Canada is being drained of her natural resources by American manufacturers who hold us up for the finished stages of our own raw products. Every year $30,000,000 is spent in the United States in the shipping of Canadian wheat crop. Raw products like Canadian pulpwood and minerals flow unchecked into the United States. The smelter at Tacoma lives on B.C. copper. Canada ships more raw materials into the United States than into the United Kingdom and has to pay through the nose to get the finished product back. An embargo on those raw products which Americans need would speedily drive American manufacturers into Canada to save their businesses. A tariff wall similar to the Fordney tariffs would force them to stay here to save their Canadian markets. Reciprocity of trade seems to be a forgotten issue in Canada. Only reciprocity of tariff can save Canada from depopulation and the excessive living costs which depress prosperity and promote pessimism. This question of reciprocity of tariff is the paramount issue confronting the government of Canada. What do MacKenzie King and his advisors propose to do about it?

Following representations made to the Imperial Oil Company of Canada, by the Automobile Club of British Columbia, a three-cent per gallon reduction is announced by these firms in the price of gasoline. The new price, 30 cents a gallon, will become effective on Saturday morning.

Clause "D" Does Not Mean the Return of the Bar

Writing editorially August 16th, he says:

"The moderationists have always insisted, even when appearing before the Legislative committee drafting the questions, that they did not want the return of the bar and included such a statement in the proposed ballot submitted at the time. The Albertan is quite confident that if "D" passes, this Government and this Legislature will do their utmost to have conditions as different as possible from the old days of the bar. It doubts, AFTER REPEATED STATEMENTS OF THE MODERATIONISTS, if any Government or Legislature would dare to permit what we generally regard as the old bar system.

DO NOT BE FOOLED—The Moderationists are honest in their statements that they do not want the return of the bar.

RED CROSS NEWS

Mr. Joe Nafziger of Manville, Alberta, arrived last week in Vulcan and will remain for the threshing season.

Mrs. Jack Love returned from Medicine Hat, where she was visiting with her cousin and son, Scottie.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hay, on August 21st, a nine pound boy.

We are glad to welcome Miss Melunberg as our new teacher in the Red Cross school, which opened on September 4th.

Several of our young students who were successful in their grade eight examinations are now attending high school in Vulcan.

We are very sorry indeed to report the sudden death of Mr. Wm. Hay, on Saturday night, just after retiring for the evening. Mr. Hay was in the best of spirits and was rejoicing over having his crop all cut and stacked. Mr. Hay was a pioneer of the district, having come from Edinburgh in the year 1806 with Mrs. Hay and their family. Mr. and Mrs. Hay have always been highly esteemed citizens. The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon of this week from the family home to Highland cemetery.

REID HILL NEWS

Mr. Pete Bowie is unfortunate enough to have an abscess on the spine necessitating an operation of a minor character by Dr. Wark. As this is the middle of harvest it comes very inopportune, we trust Mr. Bowie will experience a rapid recovery.

Mr. Northcott, of Kirkdale, went through Reid Hill in charge of a small threshing separator for his own and local use.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Myers are the proud parents of a new daughter, born Friday, September 7th.

Mrs. A. McKague has been somewhat indisposed with tonsillitis the past few days, we hope by now she will be her usual self.

Miss McGinnis who was visiting with Mrs. McKeage, has returned home again.

Mr. A. McKeage has started to thresh, the wheat turning out well, he reports.

For the present the services on Sunday evening at Kirkaldy will be discontinued. A Sunday evening service will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Reid Hill church for the convenience of those unable to avail themselves of the earlier hour.

BRANT NEWS

Miss Juanita Platt spent the week-end visiting friends in Frankburg.

Mrs. Blair of Granum is visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. A. MacLeod and family.

Miss Jennie Leach called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don MacLaren Friday last.

Mr. Gus Holmes of High River spent last week visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Doug. Holmes.

Mrs. Hummel and little daughter of Champion are visiting Mrs. Frank Johnson for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Green of Montana, came up Monday to assist their brother Harry with his threshing.

Mr. Bill Bradley, a former resident of Brant but now of the Edmonton district, is here helping through harvest.

Mr. G. B. Wilson of High River was in Brant Thursday, making arrangements for the starting of his threshing outfit.

The Emerson school re-opened Tuesday, Sept. 4th, for the coming term, with Miss Cascadon of High River as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker Johns and children are here from the States visiting the former's brother, Mr. Thomas Johns, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Cy Bechtel and son Ralph accompanied by Mrs. D. Burwash motored to Calgary Tuesday and returned home Wednesday.

Archie Bahrke, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bahrke was taken to the Blackie hospital on Friday with what is called the stomach flu.

Stanley Foster was taken to Blackie and later to the High River hospital with a severely sprained ankle, caused by wrestling with another boy at school.

Mr. Fred Edgar of Bragg Creek arrived in Brant Saturday to work through the threshing season. He is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. St. Clair.

Mr. Wilbur Bowers, a former Brantite, but who has been absent from this district for the past four years, has returned to help through the harvesting and threshing season.

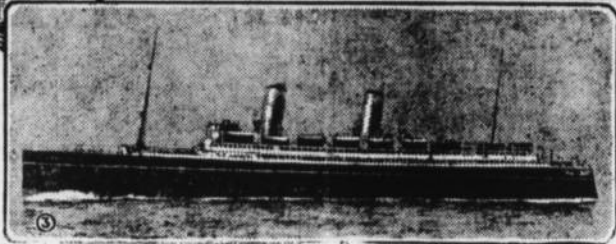

Mr. MacLeod of High River brought his threshing outfit down Saturday to thresh for Mr. Ira Olsen and Mr. J.A. Prater. This will be the first machine close to Brant to start threshing.

Mr. Jim Hazelwood, a former resident of Brant, now of Sylvan Lake, arrived here Friday morning to visit friends in this district, before going to Vulcan, where he intends locating.

Mr. Roy Jinks formerly one of the staff of the Bank of Hamilton here, but who has been relieving at other banks along the line for the past three months, returned to Brant Friday.

Mr. D. Burwash who operates the National elevator, was the first to receive some of this season's grain. Mr. O. Montgomery, who resides south-west of Brant started threshing and some of his grain was hauled to town the same day.

ALBERTA BULLETIN

Issued by Publicity Commissioner of Alberta

A party of 120 people travelling over the C.N.R. under the auspices of the Maine State chamber of commerce visited the province for a day this week on their way to the Pacific Coast.

Judge A. A. Carpenter, chairman of the public utilities board of the province has been appointed chair of the minimum wage board to succeed A.G. Browning, who has gone to Ontario.

Nearly 150 men students from the two normal schools in Calgary have volunteered for work in the harvest fields of the province, and have been granted leave for a month from their studies, for that purpose.

So fast has the dominion government buffalo herd at Wainwright grown that it is now found necessary to slaughter 2000 head. A contract has been given for this to an Edmonton man, and a factory for the manufacture of pemmican from buffalo meat is to be established in Edmonton. This food is used extensively in the north.

It is announced that the C.P.R. will increase the size of its irrigation headquarters at Kimball, in southern Alberta, by 50 per cent, in anticipation of an increase in area of 40,000 acres in the Lethbridge district. Water will be turned into the ditches of the Lethbridge Northern project, north of Lethbridge, it is expected some time this fall.

Payments of the provincial mineral tax are coming in slowly to the department of municipal affairs. This tax was put into effect last April, and is a tax of three cents an acre on mineral lands, including oil lands. The C.P.R. which has large holdings of this class, has appealed to the federal government to disallow the legislation and the Alberta government has taken steps to combat this appeal.

Hunters are reminded that the duck season will not open until September 15th. The bag limit for ducks and geese is 30 a day or 200 for the season. The open season for Partridge is in October, south of the Battle River. There is no open season north of the Battle River. The bag limit is 10 a day or 50 for the season. Prairie Chicken season is from October 15 to October 31, with a bag limit of 10 a day, or 50 for the season.

Were a freight rate in effect permanently which would put Alberta coal on a competitive basis in Ontario orders would be on hand at once for at least a quarter of a million tons, declared Howard Stutchbury, trade commissioner of the province, who returned from what was virtually a tour of triumph through the eastern province. Mr. Stutchbury was superintending the distribution of the 6000 tons of Alberta coal sent east on the special rate of $7 a ton by the Canadian national. He visited many points in Ontario, accompanied by officials of the C.M.A., and all of these points were anxious to get Alberta coal, provided a freight rate was given that would make it possible. The Ontario government and other organizations have taken up the campaign, and are bringing pressure to bear upon the Dominion government to bring about some solution of the problem of freight rates on the coal. A great deal of publicity supplied by the publicity branch of the Alberta government is being used in the east, and Mr. Stutchbury's meetings were given widespread publicity. He addressed as many as seven meetings in a day.

A party of seven Swiss editors are to visit the province during the coming week, in charge of officials of the C.P.R.

Creamery butter from Alberta exhibitors, won the championship, special prizes, and all first prizes at the Toronto exhibition, just closed, according to word received by C. Marker, dairy commissioner. The provinces competing were Alberta, Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. This is one of the best records ever made by butter exhibits from this province.

GENERAL NEWS

Canadian and U.S. authorities will confer shortly in the liquor smuggling problem.

An illicit still, with a daily capacity of 80 gallons, was seized at Calgary on Monday.

Railway excursion fares to Eastern Canada and the Pacific coast and to points in the U.S. will be put into effect this winter.

Calgary's first native grown apples are ripening on a tree in the garden of R. McCluskey, a local Burbank. The seed came from Nova Scotia.

George Armstrong, former postmaster of Edmonton, who was acquitted of stealing money parcels from the postoffice, was appointed postmaster at South Edmonton.

Seven U.S. navy destroyers and the Pacific mail liner Cuba were wrecked Saturday morning in a dense fog off Arguello light, 75 miles from Santa Barbara, a loss of 25 lives resulted.

By the aid of some wireless mystery known only to Germans, French aeroplanes flying over Germany have been put out of commission and forced to land, the magnetos being tampered with by aid of wireless. One pilot discovered an unaccountable hole in the oil tank where the solder had melted.

J. H. Byler, formerly in the meat business in High River, now at Nanton, has a sister living in Chiba, one of the stricken cities of Japan, which is reported destroyed. It is a city of 50,000 to the east of Tokyo, and the seat of the Japanese medical college. In the disorganized condition following the great disaster, it may be weeks before Mr. Byler can learn whether his sister is alive or not.

William Bradley, who arrived in Brant recently from Northern Alberta and had obtained work on the farm of Henry Geisler, dropped dead in Johns & McKay's store on Monday. He was purchasing goods at the store at the time and appeared to be in his usual health. Medical attention was given and heart failure was said to be the cause of his death. Constable Holtum got in touch with a sister living in London and notified her of the death of her brother, but no word has been received in return from relatives. The Municipality of Royal will assume the responsibility of burial expenses as the deceased was without any means of support.

Two three-year old fillies have been bought for the animal husbandry department of the University of Alberta from the Bar U Percheron herd at Pekisko. They both are sired by Halifax, the dam of one being Joseline and the other being Enterprise. They are good type animals and are being left for the breeding season and are believed to be in foal to the imported stallion Lucatiff. Another addition to the university stock is the purchase of some Oxford ewes and a ram from the Earl of Minto's ranch at Nanton. These eight ewes and the shearing ram will give the Oxford breed good representation at Edmonton.
